They are small and each has its own unique personality. There is an efficiency kitchen area nearby for guest use, as well as a common patio area. These modest rooms are recommended for guests who will not be disturbed by activities in the house which may include guests walking past until around 10:00 in the evening or passing by on their way to breakfast beginning at 8:00 in the morning. While the Chiquita and Pepita rooms can accommodate two guests, we recommend them for solo travelers because of their small size.
